

Fact Cards

Come up with your own creative way of displaying your fact cards at your next Serving Awareness dinner!

APS Type 1 affects about
1 in 2 million people.
Now that is rare!

Serving
Awareness

The average time between the appearance of symptoms and a correct diagnosis of APS Type 1 is over 10 years!

Serving
Awareness

APS Type 1 is the only known autoimmune disease caused by a single gene pair.

Serving
Awareness

We held the first International Symposium on APS Type 1 in 2015, with world leading researchers and patients all sharing their expertise.

Serving
Awareness

The National Institutes for Health is engaged in the first U.S. natural history study of APS Type 1 with over 50 patients.

Serving
Awareness

The early symptoms of APS Type 1 vary, but can include candida (yeast) infections in the mouth or on the skin, low calcium levels (hypoparathyroidism), fatigue and salt craving (Addison's Disease), fevers and a hive-like rash.

Serving
Awareness

Our APS Type 1 community is full of foodies. We love to eat!

Serving
Awareness

